She spearheaded the development of the Lakes Region Historical Society and was instrumental in the rehabilitation of the Hiram Butrick Saw Mill.

Sterbenz was involved, when her children were younger, with both the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts in Antioch.

Betty Lu Williams is a retiree of the Antioch Township Library and a life-long resident of Antioch.

Canteen Offers Help During Area Man-Hunt

by PATTY KOROM

The Salvation Army Food Service Canteen, housed at the Antioch Fire Dept., was called on early Saturday morning to provide assistance during a man-hunt near Marengo.

The call for assistance was issued at 9 a.m. after the McHenry County Sheriff's Police received a missing persons report on a man who was believed to be suicidal.

Responding to the call, along with the food service canteen, was the McHenry County Sheriff's Police Auxiliary Deputies and Police; the McHenry County Sheriff's Police Posse; the Conservation Dist. Police; the Emergency Services Canine Unit; the Marengo Fire Dept. and the Union Fire Dept. A helicopter was provided by the Illinois Dept.

The search was for a man, identified as Michael Kama, 41 of Mill Stream Rd. of Marengo. It lasted throughout the day on Saturday.

Searchers finally decided to stop the search in the early evening. Kama had not been found.

Canteen volunteers, Gary Quedenfeld of Antioch and Mr. and Mrs. Foreman of Fox Lake manned the canteen during the day, providing coffee and rolls for the searchers.

Wally Mitchell, of Libertyville, is canteen director for the Antioch unit. Jeff Smouse of Antioch is assistant director.

According to a report provided by the McHenry County Sheriff's Police, Kama was found on Sunday walking along Collins Rd. in Marengo.

Antioch Exchange Club Presents Freedom Shrine

The Exchange Club of Antioch has presented a Freedom Shrine, a unique exhibit of 28 authentic reproductions of historically famous American documents spanning the 325 years from the Mayflower Compact to the World War II Instrument of Surrender in the Pacific, to Antioch Upper Grade School. Announcement of the gift was made by Exchange Club President Lou Korom.

The shrine was formally dedicated on Friday, Jan. 16, at the Antioch Upper Grade School, where the collection will be on permanent display. Presentation on behalf of the exchange club was made by Korom. Accepting for Antioch Upper Grade School was Principal William Herbst.

Korom said, "The Freedom Shrine is exclusively an exchange club project, and an important part of the overall American citizenship program of exchange. Its documents vividly illustrate America's precious heritage of freedom and serve as a reminder that it must be protected and revitalized in every generation.

"The Freedom Shrine," he asserted, "is the exchange club's positive rebuttal to all ideologies which would pervert or destroy our American way of life."

All of the historical papers in the Freedom Shrine collection are exact photographic reproductions of the priceless originals. Each document is permanently mounted on an individual wood-grain plaque and protected against deterioration and damage by plastic lamination.

Proper Precautions Prevent Accidents

Wintertime accidents claim the lives of hundreds of Americans every year, according to Richard Lattey, assistant vice president and director of property services in Liberty Mutual Insurance Company's loss prevention department. Wood stoves, log fires, snow throwers, and even shoveling all cause serious injuries because safety precautions are not observed.

"In most cases, these accidents could have been avoided if people had just taken a moment to consider the safety aspect of the job," Lattey said. "Our homes are so familiar to us that sometimes we become more careless than we should be."

Here are a few safety tips provided by Lattey to help avoid some of the most common wintertime accidents:

Wood Stoves: Always follow the manufacturer's recommended safety procedures. Prior to installation have the chimney examined, to make sure it is free of all obstructions and naturally sound. If the stove comes with a prefab metal chimney, have it cleaned on a regular basis to avoid the build-up of creosote and a potential chimney fire.

One way to prevent creosote from accumulating is by maintaining a brisk fire with dry, well-seasoned wood (like apple, red oak and sugar maple). Avoid green pine and soft woods.

Fireplaces: Make sure the chimney is cleaned once each season if planning on burning logs in the fireplace. Always place a protective screen between the fire and the room. And, of course, do not forget to open the flue before making the fire and to close it when the fire is out.

Garages: Sometimes trouble is not easy to see. Unlike smoke, carbon monoxide is an invisible killer. According to Naitonal Safety Council figures, this poisonous gas is responsible for most of the approximately 800 poisonous gas and vapor deaths which occur each year. Therefore, never run an automobile or snow thrower in an unventilated area such as the garage.

Storage areas: It is extremely dangerous to accumulate gasoline in unapproved containers made of glass, plastic and tin. Escaping fumes, in conjunction with heat, a spark or a lighted cigarette, can easily ignite, causing an explosion or fire.

Snow Throwers: When operating a snow thrower, wear sturdy, protective shoes and close-fitting clothes. Trying to unclog the discharge chute with the hand or with a stick while the blades are engaged is extremely dangerous and should not be done. Your hand could be pulled into the machine. Shut off the snow thrower before unclogging the machine.

Shoveling: Although snow shoveling is not inherently dangerous, it is strenuous exercise that should be avoided by people with a weak heart or a history of heart or health problems. Even if in good health, be sure to dress appropriately, take frequent enough breaks, and do not overexert yourself.

Tough Flyer

The curlew can fly nonstop for more than 2,000 miles. Since most of the birds flight is over water, he doesn't have much of a chance for a breather - especially since the curlew can't swim.

Snow Tubing's Best At It's Snow Fun, Inc.

by PATTY KOROM

Imagine this. Climbing to the top of an ice covered hill, sitting down in the center of an old truck tire innertube and plummeting to the bottom of a huge hill at speeds that take your breath away.

One can experience all this and more while sno-tubing at It's Snow Fun Inc., located about one half mile north of Rte. 173 on Wilmot Rd.

The sno-tubing hills opened in 1978 at the onset of the snow and water-tubing craze that swept the nation.

The first year, according to owner Todd Banaczek, It's Snow Fun,Inc. attracted about 3,700 tubers. The sport has grown by leaps and bounds sinc that first year, with over 25,000 people in attendance last year.

What has made snow-tubing do popular with the young and old alike?

"Partly because there is no special equipment required to go tubing and partly because it's not as technical as skiing. It's more like sledding," Banaczek said.

Clothing commonly worn by snow tubing enthisiasts consists of snow pants, warm jackets and sturdy gloves. One needs very sturdy gloves to eliminate the possibility of burns from the rope tow.

The innertubes used at the hills are actually used truck tire innertubes. Banaczek said, "we tried to use new tubes one year, it was awful. They were so lopsided that we couldn't use them. The tires have to be used because they need to have been heated up a few times in order to be round."

Snow-tubing seems to be a favorite group activity for area residents. Banaczek said that the hills are often rented for private parties throughout the season. Banaczek provides later hours on the hills for private parties.

The cost involved with snow-tubing is reasonable at $5 per person.

As snow-tubing is a seasonal sport, Banaczek has found a way to utilize the hills during the summer months.

The same hills used for snow-tubing in the winter are used as moto-cross trails during the summer.

Although the moto-cross trails were closed last year, Banaczek hopes to have them re-opened this spring.

The popularity of snow-tubing has grown enough over the years to convince Banaczek that a lodge would be a good investment.

Although the lodge is a few years down the line, Banaczek is looking forward to upgrading the area surrounding the hills.

Activity Program At Grass Lake A Success

Raymond Liss, principal of Grass Lake School, is very pleased with this year's Junior High Activity Program, as the first semester draws to a close. This is the eighth year that teachers have presented a variety of courses that are taught in addition to required academic courses.

Liss explained that each quarter, students choose two elective courses which they attend on a Monday-Friday and Tuesday-Thursday basis. Wednesdays are reserved for band or study hall.

Some of the elective which have been offered are folk art, still life drawing, pottery, textile design, computer programming, study skills, chorus, band, guitar, sewing, cooking, drama, set design, video camera, newspaper, chess, crocheting, weight lifting, creative fitness, typing, French, German, Spanish and others.

These courses are graded each quarter, and the course offerings are dependent upon the varius talents of the staff and the availability of materials and/or facilities. Liss added that the students are enthusiastic about the courses, and the electives provide an opportunity for them to explore and excel in various non-academic areas.

Shelley Brausam, an eighth grade student, commented that she enjoyed preparing for the luncheon which concluded the first quarter's cooking class. She especially liked using tablecloths, cloth napkins, china, glasses and silverware for the luncheon instead of paper and plastic products. Superintendent Anthony Przeklasa, one of the guests who attended, said that in addition to enjoying the delicious food, he was delighted with the social graces that the students were laerning.

ACHS Students Can Rest, But Just for A Little Bit

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

Now that first semester final exams are over for ACHS students, we all can relax; they don't have to "cram" again for 18 weeks. Most of our college students are back at school, and life is taking on a more normal appearance. Even winter seems to be more normal since we've had to shovel the "white stuff" a few times.

One long-time Antioch resident is glad to have her life get back to normal. Frances LaPlant, at home now after having an enforced stay in the hospital over the recent holidays says "I was so overwhelmed by the cards, phone calls, visits and outpouring of good wishes, that I just couldn't believe it!" She is feeling good and says, "I think that after three years, I've finally made it. Bless you all!" Now that's good news!

Even though there's snow on the ground, spring is coming. It has to be, because soccer sign-ups are underway. But HURRY-- the final registration days are Friday, Jan. 23 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 24 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Lindenhurst Village Hall. You must register in person; no mail-in registration will be accepted. Children ages six to 14 as of Jan. 1, 1987, are eligible to play. Cost is $20 per child.

Already in full swing with one practice and two actual games "under the belts" are the boys in the Iceless Hockey League. Results for the first week of the play are:

Second and Third Grade League, Jan. 16, East: Sabres 4, Rangers 3; Canucks 7, Canadians, 3; North Stars, 12, Devils, 0; Penguins 7, Blackhawks, 7.

West: Islanders, 7, Blues 4; Kings 5; Flyers 4; Whalers 6, Red Wings 4; Capitals 6, Flames 2.

Jan. 17, East: North Stars 6, Canadians 0; Canucks 9, Blackhawks 3; Oilers 15, Maple Leafs 4.

West: Whalers 6, Flames 5; Jets 3, Flyers 1; Red Wings 6, Bruins 4.

Fourth and Fifth Grade League, Jan. 16, East: Oilers, 4, North Stars 4; Penguins 10, Rangers 2; Blackhawks 5, Maple Leafs 1; Devils 6, Canadians 6.

West: Kings 9, Blues 3; Islanders 7, Jets 1; Flames 7, Whalers 4; Flyers 13, Capitals 4.

Jan. 17, East: Sabres 7, North Stars, 3; Devils 3, Maple Leafs 2. West: Islanders 9, Flames 2; Red Wings 5, Kings 5.

After three months of practice, the fourth and fifth graders of School Dist. 34's Intermediate and Beginning Bands entertained their parents and friends in a Winter Concert under the direction of Mrs. Linda Schotka-Johnson. It's always amazing to see these little tykes, who three months previous couldn't read or play a note of music in most cases, now play in concert and be pretty much together. And speaking of together--these 124 Beginning Band students coming from the three district K-5 schools can only practice as a group the night before the performance. You did a nice job, kids!

The Intermediate Fifth Grade Band, 60 strong, meets twice-weekly before school and has made great strides from the "Mary Had a Little Lamb" songs that they played in beginning band. Continue to keep up the good work, musicians!

Work was the name of the game as the By-Laws Committee of the Antioch Junior Women's Club laid out the basic organization for the newly formed group in preparation for their open membership meeting to be held at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 10 at the Antioch Twp Library.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Any idea who the new president will be for the Chamber of Commerce and Industry? Tickets are still available for the installation dinner on Saturday. The dinner will be held at Maravela's Banquet Facility in Fox Lake.

The best part of the Chamber dinner will be the presentation of the Athena Award. All of the women that were nominated are terrific gals.

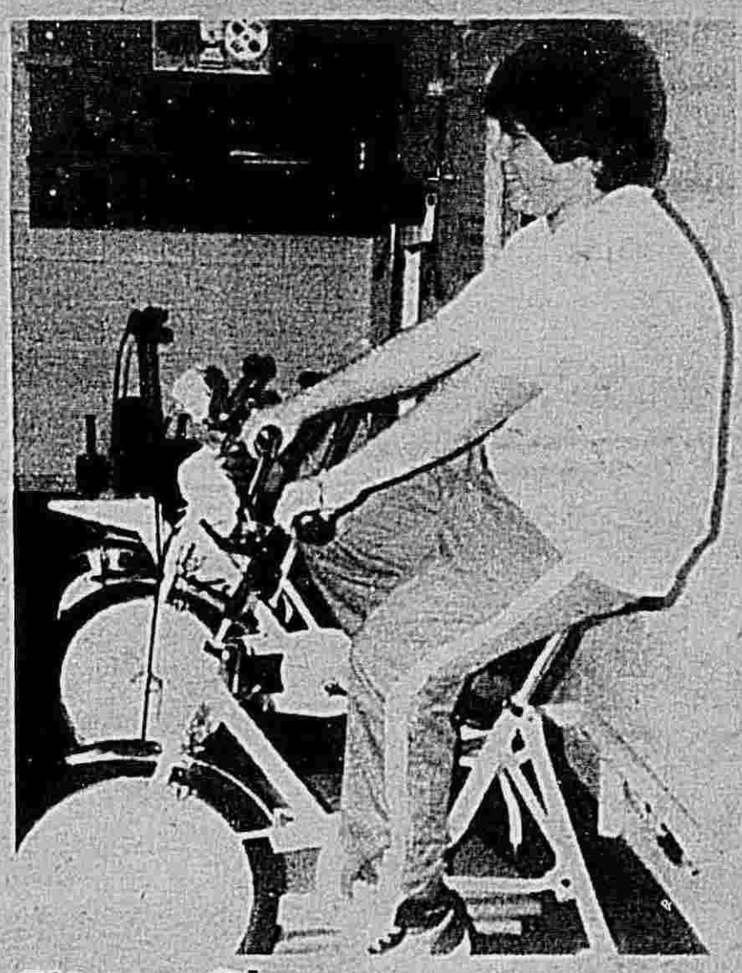

Don't you think that it's just awful the way women are overshadowed in Antioch's professional community? I did hear, however, that women will now be admitted to the Exchange Club. I'm not surprised really, Lou Korom is a pretty progressive guy.

Honestly though, I really don't think that Antioch's professional ladies would enjoy throwing dinner rolls at an incoming service club president. Know who I'm talking about guys?

I hope you all intend to join the Lake Shangri-La Homeowners Assn. members at their annual Ice Fishing Derby on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1. The organizers have worked so hard to make the derby a family affair. There will be something for everyone to do and I hear the food is just terrific.

Everyone have their tickets to PM and L Theater's 'Angel Street'? The theater really needs your support. According to my sources, the one group that does not patronize the theater is young adults and parents with younger children.

The arts are important to anyone's development, espcially a child's.

Aspirin Can Contribute To Reye's

Parents should not give aspirin or products which contain aspirin to children who are ill with influenza or chickenpox because of the risk of Reye Syndrome.

"The presence of the Taiwan strain of influenza in Illinois means we can expect to see more cases of flu among people under 35 than we normally would," said Dr. Bernard J. Turnock, director of the Illinois Dept. of Public Health. "This also means an increased risk of cases of Reye Syndrome."

Reye Syndrome is a rare condition which causes severe swilling of the brain and can be fatal. Most victims are under 14.

Because there is a strong association between Reye Syndrome and the use of aspirin during flu or chickenpox, Dr. Turnock said children under 14 should not take aspirin or products which contain aspirin while they have either illness.

If a product is not prominently labeled "aspirin-free" or "contains no aspirin" consumers should read the list of active ingredients on the label to determine whether the product contains aspirin.

If the list includes "salicylate," the product contains aspirin.

"If there is any doubt, a consumer should consult a pharmacist," Dr. Turnock said.

The onset of Reye Syndrome occurs from two days to two weeks after the child has recovered from influenza or chickenpox. Symptoms include episodes of explosive vomiting and changes in the child's awareness.

An average of 10 cases of Reye Syndrome occur each year in Illinois. About 25 percent of these result in death.

Time To Move On

Just as the Lake County Regional Board of School Trustees denied the petitions of some Arbor Vista residents to de-annex from Warren High School and attach themselves to Libertyville, Warren superintendent Robert Shepherd outlined a plan for strategic long-range planning by the Warren Board of Education and administration.

We have felt since the beginning of this initiative that many of the activists in Arbor Vista were more concerned with status than educational quality. When the regional board met to make a final decision, it had to take into consideration the impact of such a move on all students in the Warren and Libertyville Schools. The board decided, by a 5-2 vote, that there was not enough evidence to justify such a drastic move.

The best point that proponents of the de-annexation had was the instability of Warren High School. Some of that lack of stability was beyond the control of even the best and the brightest. The fire of two and a half years ago that destroyed the old campus has caused Warren officials to scramble in an attempt to rebuild in a manner that the majority of the community can accept.

But when the board started sending superintendents through a revolving door, it all but gutted any effective long-range planning for the district. In the aftermath of the fire, long-range planning is crucial.

Though some residents of Arbor Vista say they plan to appeal the ruling, we hope they think better of it. Two and a half years of chaos is enough. The new superintendent, Bob Shepherd, has a clear idea of where he wants the schools to go. If the board and community will stop squabbling long enough to give him a chance to take charge, perhaps students at Warren can finally get a return to normalcy.

The future of many children is dependent upon the community concentrating on education rather than infighting.

Central Lake County Will Be Battleground

by F.T. "MIKE" GRAHAM

An election took place on Dec. 1 that few members of the public understand the far ranging importance of.

On that day, Lake County Board members elected a chairman and the president of the Lake County Forest Preserve District. For the next two years, the political philosophy, as it relates to growth and open space, will be shaped by the winning 13 majority of that 24-member board. It was a hastily arranged political marriage that will face many stormy sessions and may not survive. However, at this moment the ruling 13 have a very strong pro-growth flavor and that will be the trend unless the public loudly demands something different.

Emerging from that election as at least the County Board's second most politically powerful member, if not the first, was Andrea Moore, who was the co-architect of that political alliance. And to a lesser degree, Jim Dolan, who just happened to be in the right spot at the right time. Other Board and Forest Preserve members from Dist. 4 and 6 all gained political stature. Gerald Beyer, from Dist. 6, became chairman of two powerful committees. Jim Fields and Fred Popp, both from Dist. 4, rose from political obscurity to significant political power. I have no struggle with the political philosophy, "that to the victor goes the spoils," or with its companion, "also the responsibility."

The key issue for Central Lake County in the next two years will be the proposed 2,000-acre Heartland development and two landfill sites, one new and one expanded, plus an incinerator. The zoning possibilities on that 2,000 acres are a developer's dream come true providing little if any safeguards, while assuring tens of thousands more cars to further clog our already overcrowded highways.

The destruction of Heartland will be the end of the farming industry in Central Lake County and will signal the beginning of the end for all farming in the county. That grim spectre has the heretofore politically non-involved, but very influential 12,000-member Lake County Farm Bureau righteously concerned. That concern could have far-reaching political impact, especially in the more rural western County Board Districts of 4, 5 and 6. Without going into deep detail, I will quickly add that in urban counties the least reason to save farmland is for food production. One of the best reasons that should still be vivid in everyone's mind is to aid in flood control.

The 2,000-acre Heartland development is in both County Board Districts 4 and 6 and has a three-mile common border along Rte. 45 with Dist. 5. Those three County Board Districts also have a potential 12 votes of the needed 13 to shape the visionary and tax saving Open Space policy.

The vehicle is in place (Forest Preserve) to purchase Heartland at a cost of $38 per year for 20 years for the owner of a $100,000 home. Just slightly more than the ultra modern, $30 million jail these same board members just recently approved without a referendum. The development of Heartland will cost the public three to five times more just for new roads and schools and complete destruction of the quality of life. It is certain that the existence of twin landfill sites, plus an incinerator, plus a duplicate of "Schaumburg" style of congestion will depress even far distant neighboring property values significantly more than $38 a year and adjacent property values will be devastated.

To board members Moore, Dolan, Beyers, Fields and Popp, you now have the political power, the answer that many voters will be looking for. Do you have the political courage and vision? In my judgment, the public will make the final decision in a short 18 months, if you don't.

Editor's note: F.T. "Mike" Graham is supervisor of Libertyville Twp. and a member of the Lake County Board, representing Dist. 5 of Warren, Libertyville and parts of Vernon townships. Graham is an outspoken advocate for public acquisition of open space.

Unbearable Mess If You Like Ditka, Vainisi

by BILL SCHROEDER

Some of the sporting world's best informed soothsayers are predicting that Lakeland's most famous sports personality, Mike Ditka, soon will be searching for a new address.

We don't know Mike, but we'd hate to see him leave even though we only know him second hand and through the sports pages. Mike and his wife, Diane, attend Mass at St. Gilbert Church pretty regularly, and when they're not booked somewhere they occasionally turn up at some of our local eat spots. So we consider them part of our community.

We don't know Mike McCaskey or Jerry Vainisi either--except second hand and through the sports pages. From these sources our impressions are that Vainis is solid and knowledgeable. McCaskey is bright, impetuous and solidly in control of one of sport's most valuable franchises, the Chicago Bears, which we jokingly refer to as the Lakeland Bears or the Lake County Bears because they are so much a part of the local scene. Mike Ditka is, well, Mike Ditka, the same at home and in person as he is portrayed in the press and in public.

No matter how incensed Bear fans are over the shabby treatment Ditka and Vainisi are receiving, the irrefutable fact is that McCaskey is the BOSS. Nothing should be surprising in professional sports when this fact is kept paramount.

Ditka and Vainisi are good enough at what they do to find employment. We shouldn't feel sorry for them. (We're delighted at one of the scenarios that has Vainisi winding up in Green Bay where a solid and knowledgeable guy is badly needed). And don't feel sorry for McCaskey. He'll get whatever he wants. Feel sorry for yourself for getting upset about things that have utterly nothing th do with important things like tax reform, the federal deficit, solid waste disposal and foreign imports.

Did you ever think that the Bears boss is taking perverse steps to find a way back to another Super Bowl? If that happens, fans will be happy again, no matter who's coaching the Bears.

TOP LEATHERNECK—A young neighbor of ours, who is now Pfc. Ron Gomora of the U.S. Marine Corps, did his parents and friends proud by gaining recognition as the top recruit in his boot training outfit at Parris Island, S.C.

Ron was one of 50 platoon members to be chosen as Platoon Honors Man, which gained him a meritorious promotion to private first class. Another honor was receiving presentation of his dress blues. He and his parents were guests of the commanding general for dinner after graduation ceremonies Jan. 15.

Ron won top honors in the four categories of intensive combat training, rifle range, physical training and education. Nice going, Ron. We're all proud of you.

ALL HEART—Lake County businesses are enthusiastic about the employee blood pressure screening program being conducted by the Lake County Health Dept. in conjunction with Heart Month in February, according to Barbara Doyle, supervisor of the hypertension program.

So many businesses have signed up for worksite blood pressure testing that dates are being booked in January and March besides February, Doyle reported.

Having your blood pressure tested periodically is a good idea. Doctors say it is amazing the number of people going about their everyday lives who don't realize they have a heart problem that can be spotted during a pressure test that takes about a minute.

Republican Congressman Phil Crane of the 12th Dist. of Illinois was reappointed as ranking member of the House Trade Subcommittee. Both are regarded as doing excellent work only Aspin was accused by colleagues of siding with President Reagan too much.

He becomes the third Lake County legislator to take a leadership position, the others being State Rep. John Matejevich (D-Waukegan), Democratic whip, and State Sen. # High-Flying Hobby's Popularity Soars

by MARK BENNO

Does the thought of flying through the air in an object which weighs less than just about any member of the Chicago Bears excite you?

"We like it," said Roy McClellan, Diamond Lake resident and member of the 103rd Arrow Squadron. This organization of ultra light airplane enthusiasts wants to fill the Lake County skies with more of these airborne RV's.

The term ultra light airplanes can, however, be misleading, since they really aren't airplanes at all. If an ultra light exceeds the standard maximum weight of 254 pounds, McClellan said it would then be considered an airplane, and subject to much stricter rules regarding air travel.

Ultra lights, though, operate under their own set of rules and guidelines. No special license is required to become an ultra light pilot, but McClellan said pilot candidates must take ground school ultra light training.

With no ultra light fatalities in Illinois last year, said McClellan, it does sound like "the ultra lights are really here to stay." The birth of the ultra lights makes an interesting story.

McClellan said that about 11 years ago the first flying object similar to the present day ultra light took off. It was actually just a hang glider with a motor attached, but even then its inventors knew something big was on the horizon.

"They're getting safer and safer," said McClellan, referring to the ultra lights' evolution. The first ultra lights were constructed with a lot of wire, which reduces the strength of the craft. Today, solid struts provide support which makes them fly, "just like an airplane," said McClellan.

McClellan himself has been flying for about seven years and, like most ultra light pilots, has a flying background. He also said that a lot of retired pilots look to ultra light flying as a way of extending their life as a pilot.

The 103rd Arrow Squadron is composed of 20 members, with other squadrons like it growing in number across the country. It is based in Huntley, Ill., and the squadron uses its own 20-acre plot of land as an airstrip.

It's less than an hour in flying time from Diamond Lake, where McClellan and some of his friends actually take off and land, to Huntley. In the winter, the ice acts as an airstrip, and in the summer pontoons can be easily attached. The ultra lights, however, may only land on a designated section of Diamond Lake.

While ultra light flying is a popular way for many pilots to sit back and take it easy, the ultra light competitions are no less fierce than any airplane competition.

Some of the newer features on the ultra lights, along with the increased support, include better and more reliable engines, and double instead of single surfaces on the wings. This double surface increases both speed and lift abilities.

And all of these innovations are necessary in a competition. The competitions are also a way for ultra light enthusiasts to gather and exchange information about the ultra lights. Limits for these competitions include weight, a 63 mile an hour speed limit, and a parachute.

The parachute on McClellan's plane is one of the newest models. When needed, he can pull a cord which will virtually explode the parachute upwards, and bring both man and plane down to earth with relative safety. Some parachutes can even bring down a plane squarely on its wheels.

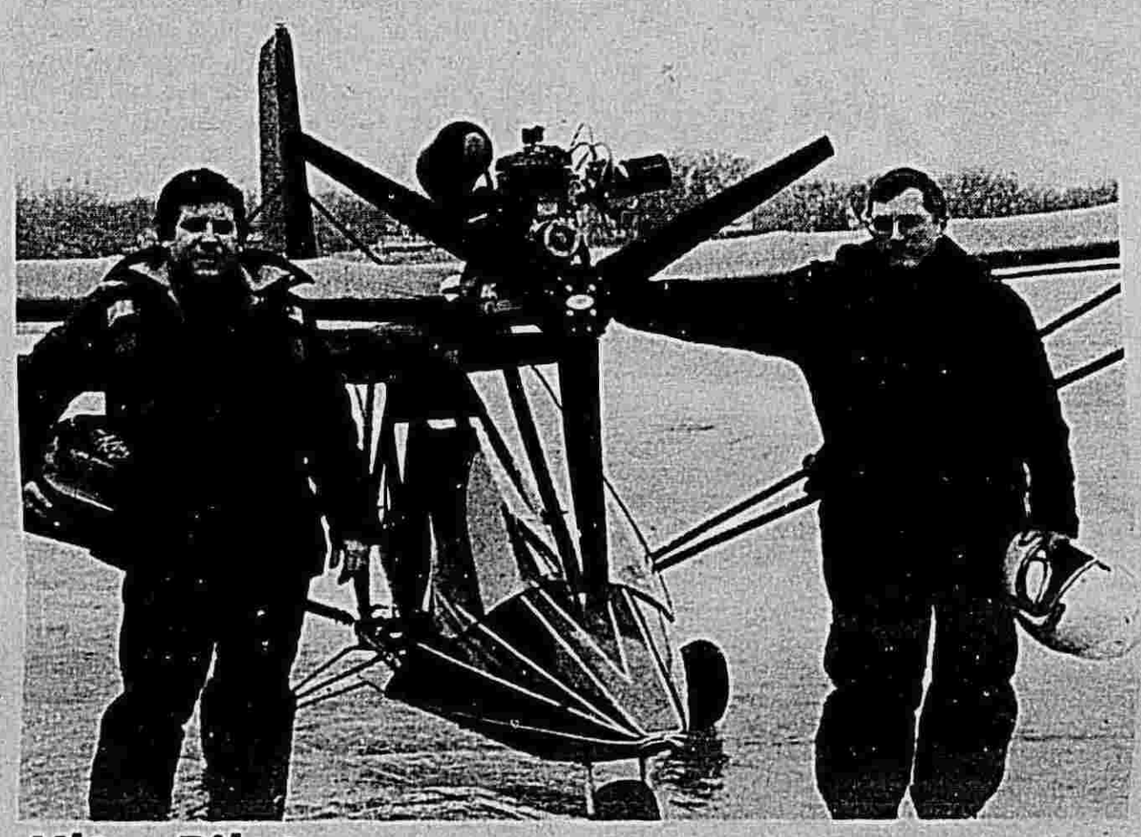

Many of these limits and guidelines are established by the U.S. Ultra Light Assc., which is actually a self-governing body. McClellan said this system works the best, since the regulations for ultra lights versus airplanes are totally different.

The cost for most ultra lights is around $5,000, said McClellan. The advantage, though, can be amazing. Many ultra lights can be folded to fit on a car roof, and they usually only burn about a gallon or two of gas per hour.

This combination of economy plus reliability makes ultra light flying the perfect hobby, said McClellan. From the look on his face as he left the ice, he just may be right.

Educator Of National Renown To Speak Feb.6

On Feb. 6, at 1:30 p.m. nationally recognized educator George McKenna will appear at the Genesee Theater in Waukegan, sponsored by the regional superintendent of schools' office.

Whether being recognized by President Reagan for his work on school discipline or being written up in "Time" and "People" magazines, this principal has caught the attention of serious minded educators nationwide.

In Feb., 1979, McKenna was assigned as principal to George Washington Preparatory High School in Los Angeles. He soon learned why it had the worst reputation in the city for violence, low achievement and lack of community confidence when a gang member was killed during a gang confrontation at school. Within four years he has changed this inner-city school from chaos to one where there is a waiting list for entry; to one where 80 percent of the graduates enroll in college.

He acheived this with the Preparatory School model, a program that stresses academic achievement at all levels. His first steps, however-- instituting mandatory homework, attendance and dress codes--met with faculty resistance. To stop the flow of the best students to other schools, he engaged the assistance of parents and community leaders.

McKenna has received national recognition for his work, receiving over 250 citations and awards from a host of civic, legislative and professional organizations. He was recognized by President Reagan, who invited him to the White House to participate in a panel on school discipline. The President further acknowledged McKenna's leadership at the 68th annual National Convention of Secondary School Principals, where he praised McKenna as a "hero" with faith in common sense values."

The Genesee Theater located at the corner of Genesee and Clayton Sts. in Waukegan holds nearly 2,000 persons. City parking in several lots is available nearby. Further information may be obtained by calling the regional superintendent's office, (312)360-6313.

Workshop For Caregivers

"Emotional Support: Focus on You and Your Elderly Client" is the theme of a workshop scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 4, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the West Suburban Campus of National College of Education, 15331 Grace St., Lombard. The program is co-sponsored by Region Two Area Agency on Aging and the Center for Applied Gerontology of Chicago.

NICC To Host Fish Boil

The Northern Illinois Conservation Club (NICC) will hold a Door County Style Fish Boil at My Brother's Place in Antioch on Saturday, Jan. 31 from 5 to 9 p.m. My Brother's Place is two and a half miles west of Rte. 59 on Rte. 173.

Tickets are $6 per person and can be obtained by calling Donald Lessard at (312) 395-1614 or the club at (312) 395-NICC.

The buffet-style dinner will be followed with a presentation by Bob Goodall and Fred Kirkpatrick, president and vice-president respectively of the Illinois Sportsmen's Legislative Coalition (ISLC). The ISLC monitors proposed legislation in Springfield that affects wildlife, conservation, habitat and sportsmen of all interests. They will discuss last year's successes and losses and what is planned for the coming year.

Member of the NICC will give details on the World's Largest Fishing Derby, which the club is sponsoring on the Chain O'Lakes Feb. 14 and 15. Over 500 tagged fish will be released into the chain in preparation for the event.

Fatalities Increase

Sixteen traffic fatalities happened in Lake County in December, 1986 according to Laimutis Nargelenas, superintendent of Illinois State Police. That is up from four fatalities in December, 1985.

Throughout 1986, 242 people were killed in traffic accidents in the State Police's Dist. 2, which includes Lake, McHenry, DeKalb, Kane and DuPage Counties. That is down from 254 killed in 1985.

Do DRG's Damage Rather Than Improve?

Medical Musings

By Leo Tannenbaum, M.D.

I'll bet there isn't one person in a thousand who knows what a DRG is. Yet it may, in some instances, cut years off your life. A DRG is a "Diagnosis Related Group" determined by a government agency. In brief, it tells a hospital what Medicare will pay for treatment of the patient in his hospital stay, strictly according tot he diagnosis designated. It doesn't pay for what's done for the patient or how long he stays.

By a logic somewhat like "Alice in Wonderland," it cuts down the cost by designating a certain amount of dollars, usually for one certain disease. To make it simpler, there is a strong tendency to pay only for one disease per customer–the so-called number one diagnosis. Sadly, you may have abdominal pain, headaches and weakness. You are admitted with a number one diagnosis of abdominal complaint. If, after your studies and treatment, you are found to have high blood pressure, coronary disease, and colitis, the "number one" final diagnosis may be changed, but almost for certain that's the only one Medicare will pay for. So, should you have been treated for your other ailments because you will go down hill if they're neglected?

Should the hospital absorb the costs of the other tests and treatments, because somehow to the government you've become a one-disease, one-dimensional character? If you or your hospital appeals the lack of payment, what percentage of appeals are successful?

If you haven't abandoned this column yet, may I tell you that the surface hasn't been scratched. I'll give another example: A favorite TV program of mine takes an old house, finds out that its roof leaks, the plaster is falling down, the wooded walls are rotting, the heater hasn't been functioning and there's no adequate closet space. Would it be appropriate to pick on only one of these items, pay for its rehabilitation and expect that old house to be habitable now?

So, will large maounts of money be saved by this bizarre approach? Or will more fixing have to be done as the house continues to fall apaprt? Ah, but the government has to oversee this ponderous minute examination of the DRG system. So, thousands of employees are hired who study every hospital chart so there'll be no cheating.

I'll give you a bunch of other initials (acronyms, we call them) that are either already in progress or proposed. They are: HHS, HCFA, HMO, IPA, PRO, PPS, MQPA, COBRA. And if all these are useful in saving money and assuring good care, how come medicine becomes more expensive each year? Again, if you feel comfortable because you're not yet 65, should you continue so if you're paying for it now and it's extended to all age groups? That the hospitals, insurance companies and doctors are being pressed unfairly is well documented. But the ultimate person to be affected is the patient.

Every day I read articles about how to take care of stuffy noses or ingrown toenails. American Medicine is in trouble and we need to wake up and ask the larger questions that deal with life and death before it's too late. It might be interesting to examine the alphabet soup that I've mentioned (and others) and what effect they have.

'Gung Hoy Fet Toy' Means Happy New Year

On Thursday, Jan. 29, there will be a second chance for a New Year's celebration. On that day, the world will leave the "Year of the Tiger" and enter the "Year of the Hare," 4685 in the Oriental lunar calendar.

The date of Chinese New Year changes every year, but always falls between Jan. 21 and Feb. 19. It arrives with the second new moon after the winter solstice.

The Year of the Hare follows the Oriental tradition, said to be started by Buddha, of naming the years after animals in 12-year cycles. In order, after the hare are the years of the dragon, snake, horse, ram, monkey, rooster, dog, boar, rat, ox and tiger.

Today, the celebration is concentrated into a few days. In days gone by, preparations began a month in advance and festivities lasted a full month after New Year's Day.

Weeks before the New Year, villages bustled with housecleaning activity, befitting the New Year as a time of renewal. Men in masks and warrior costumes symbolically chased pestilence out of the town. A villager dressed as a sorcerer ran through the streets with an ax in hand driving out evil spirits. All debts were to be paid before the old year ended.

The last days of the old year find people purchasing the traditional gifts: flowers, teas and rare fruits. Food is a welcome New Year's gift and oranges are especially favored. For members of ones own family, ornaments or fabrics, particularly silks, are preferred. Children and servants receive small packets of money wrapped in red paper, a symbol of luck.

The old year is finished with visits to relatives and, for women, cooking. All food preparation must be finished on the last day of the year, since using a knife or any sharp instrument on New Year's Day is thought to cut the coming year's luck patterns.

Fireworks and good wishes at midnight hail the New Year. Cries of "Gung Hoy Fet Toy" (Happy New Year) ring through the household.

On New Year's Day, and often for the five days following, families remain at home. Shops close, streets are empty, and each family enjoys feasting and unaccustomed leisure. After the days of private celebrations come still more feasts and a time for visiting friends.

Plan to celebrate the Chinese New Year at any of the many Chinese restaurants throughout the area or, if you prefer, try the recipes which accompany this article.

By the way, if you were born in the Year of the Hare (1927, 1939, 1951, 1963, or 1975), you are said to be compassionate, romantic and sympathetic, devoted to harmony and peace of mind. Friends admire your positive attitude and ability to keep secrets. Hares are also forgiving in nature and have clever minds. Hares don't like turmoil in their lives.

Whatever the Hare produces in his life, whether artistic, financial or domestic, the tone will be tasteful, conservative and traditional. Hare people enjoy their work and go about it calmly and with much self-discipline.

Some famous hares include Queen Victoria, James Beard, Albert Einstein, Harry Belafonte, Neil Simon, Peter Falk, George C. Scott, George Plimpton, Judy Collins, Ali McGraw, David Frost and Tom Kristof.

Super Bowl Sunday means super-duper profits for CBS

By Marty Linehan

Today is Super Bowl Sunday and we have the CBS gypsies, who are enjoying a big Bajour. In gypsy talk, the Bajour is the giant swindle, the big sting, the big handkerchief switch, the big come-and-get-it day.

Today will be the biggest sports-business day in TV history. Then again, this occurs every January, and now it's CBS's turn to use the license to steal.

CBS is charging $600,000 for a 30-second commercial. There are 52 spots, and the total should come to $30 million. All this for a game that has produced final scores of 38-9, 38-16 and 48-10 for the last three years. They still call such lopsided games "super"? They must be part of the Bajour!

But the sponsors only know that last year's game, shown on NBC, drew the largest TV audience ever. The game was seen by about 127 million viewers, 70 percent of those watching TV that Sunday afternoon.

Last year, NBC helped fill the interminable halftime festivities with a Tom Brokaw interview of President Reagan. This year, CBS has Dan Rather and Mariette Hartley of CBS News, probably to plug CBS news programs.

Last year, NBC featured the so-called "john break," when the screen went virtually blank for 60 seconds so fans could go to the kitchen or whatever. This year, we're on our own, but who would want to miss those commercials? They cost $600,000 a pop.

Grant Takes Over As Top Dog In League Race

Round one goes to Grant.

The Bulldogs chalked up a key win last week with a 63-54 win over Lake Zurich in a battle for first place in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Now for coach Tom Maple's team, the key is keeping momentum until the two teams meet again Feb. 17.

"My concern about playing Wauconda is that we don't get sloppy and pick up some bad habits," Maple, whose team is 13-2, 5-0 in the NWSC said.

In the Wauconda game, the contest matches the first and last place teams in the league. Host Wauconda is 1-10 overall, 0-5 in league play.

The win over Lake Zurich was keyed by Don Richford and Don Kiegan.

Kiesgan pumped in 36 points on 15-for-20 shooting from the field while he contributed 16 rebounds, five recoveries and two assists.

'After the game, both Don and I credited our guards for getting him the ball," Maple said of Mike Kazlausky and Mike McDonald.

Defensively, Richford allowed Lake Zurich's main threat, Tom Jessee, just two points on four shots.

"That was instrumental," Maple said.

Richford contributed 14 points and seven rebounds.

Steve Hall and Dave Hempfling tried to counter for Lake Zurich, scoring 20 and 16 points, respectively.

Grant led throughout, getting key baskets to stay ahead.

"Each time we would have an eight or nine point lead, I'd sit back and say we had a comfortable lead, But each time, Lake Zurich came right back at us, cutting it to five or three points," Maple said.

One of the most important of Kiesgan's 16 field goals came at the end of the third quarter. With :2 remaining, Kiesgan scored to put Grant ahead by eight points going into the fourth quarter.

"That was a momentum basket for us," Maple said.

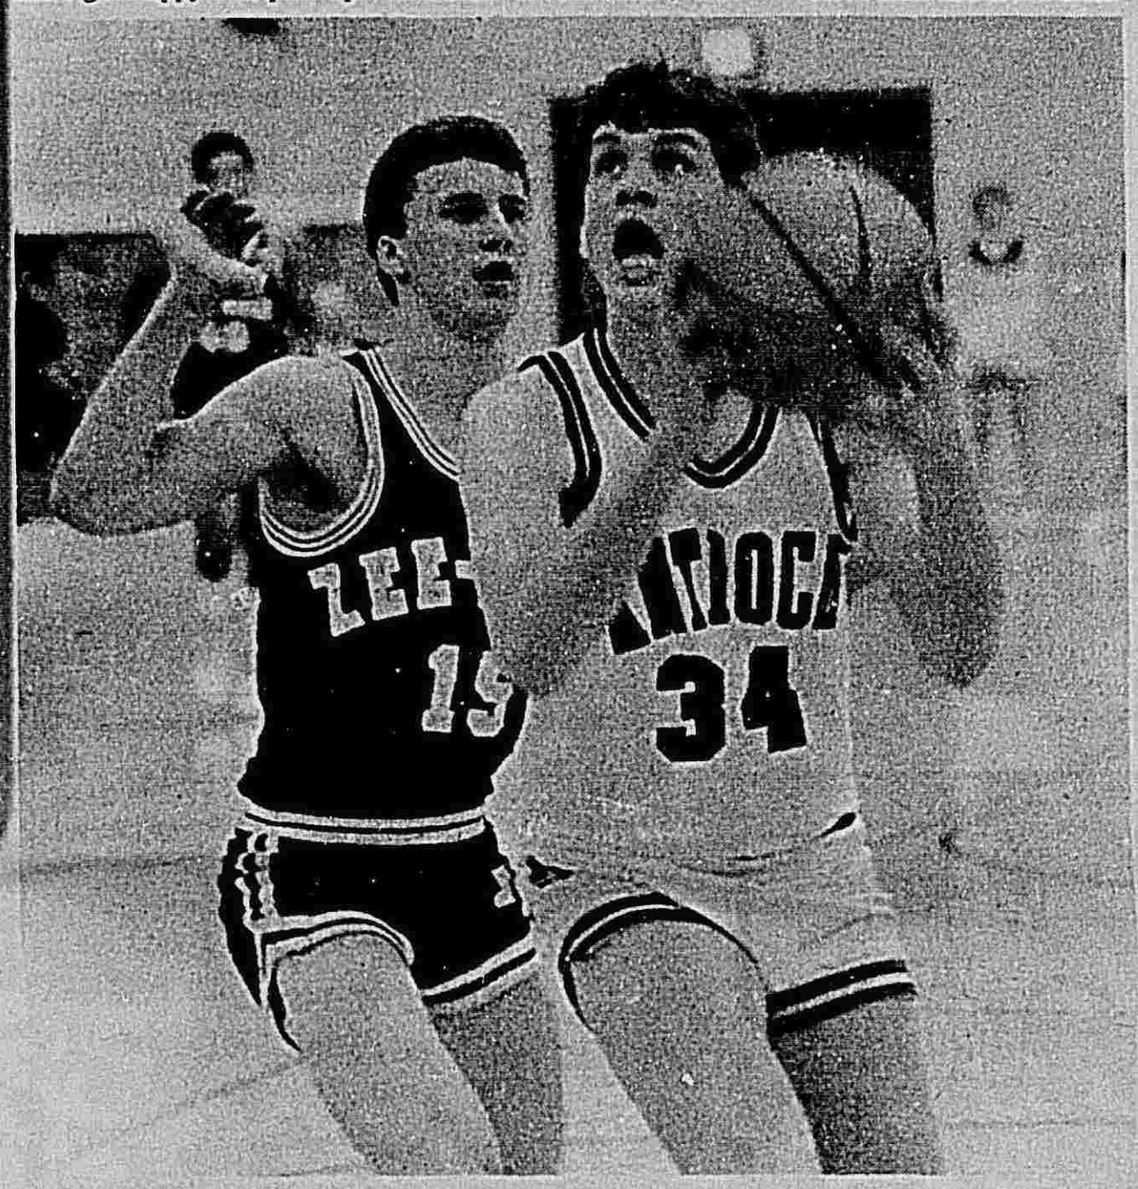

Although the Bulldogs were safely in the lead, Maple was not entirely pleased with the way the team handled it.

"At times we were a little sloppy. We could have out the game away but we weren't careful," he said.

Maple credited his freshmen coach and chief scout, Dave Einhorn, with helping get the team prepared.

"When I can't see a game, I like to send Dave because I feel confident he will do a good job," Maple said.

Einhorn scouted Marengo, Grayslake, Round Lake and Lake Zurich before Grant played them. All games turned out to be Grant wins.

Warren, Antioch To Face Away NSC Doubleheaders

Warren and Antioch's basketball teams, while at opposite ends of the North Suburban Conference, have something in common Jan. 23 and Jan. 24.

The Blue Devils and the Sequoits both hit the road for two NSC games as the league's second half gets underway. Warren travels to Libertyville Jan. 23 and Stevenson Jan. 24. Antioch is at Stevenson Jan. 23 and Niles North Jan. 24.

For Warren, the contests represent a challenge to keep its second-place status in the NSC intact. A double-win weekend could give the Blue Devils, 10-5 overall and 6-2 in league play, important momentum for the second half. A double-loss weekend would leave the Blue Devils in the middle of the pack.

For Antioch, the games are two more chances for coach Don Zeman's team to notch that elusive win No. 3. Antioch, 2-12 overall and 1-7 in league play, has lost its last three games by one, two and three points.

Warren bounced back from a tough loss at the hands of league-leading Lake Forest to post a 51-48 win at Antioch last week.

"The contest was not decided for good until Brian Jarrell hit two free throws with four seconds left, giving the Blue Devils a three-point lead.

Dave Sjong led Warren with 18 points while Jarrell contributed 13.

After a see-saw first quarter, Warren ripped off a 10-0 run to start the second half and led 33-23. Antioch tried to rally and won the fourth quarter 17-16, but one point was as close as the Sequoits could get.

"After they scored the first 10 points in the second half, it was a matter of us trying to claw and get back into the game," Zeman said.

Against Lake Forest in a game played at the College of Lake County, Warren's loss was a case of the Scouts rallying from a large deficit to post the win.

"We played very well in the first half. I'm very proud of the way the kids played. We were in the game until the last 11 seconds," Warren coach Darrel Bader said.

Progress Key For Rams, Panthers In League Contests

For Round Lake and Grayslake's basketball teams, the key word is progress.

Both teams saw some of that important category last week and hope to continue the trend Jan. 23 in Northwest Suburban Conference tilts. Round Lake hosts Marian Central while Grayslake travels to Johnsburg in 7:30 p.m. games.

For Round Lake the home game against Marian Central represents a chance to reach two milestones: 10 wins overall and .500 in league play.

"We shot the ball real well in the first half. We were 18-for-25(72 percent) and that's the best shooting I've seen in three years here," Round Lake coach Bob Ward said if his team's 78-52 thumping of Johnsburg last week.

The Panthers, now 9-5 on the year and 2-3 in league play, scored 44 points in the first 16 minutes as a balanced attack carried the way. Jim Bills led with 27 points but Frank Russel had 15, and Rob Akers 10. Round Lake outrebounded Johnsburg 35-21 and Bills had 10.

"The thing I'm most pleased about is the progress itself. We have a long way to go yet, but we're making steady progress every game," Ward said.

The win over the Skyhawks represented the Panthers' fourth straight.

In Marian Central, Round Lake will face a team which may be getting its basketball act together. The Hurricanes clubbed Wauconda 61-48 last week.

"They're a capable club. Over the last two years, they've been coming into their own about this time because the football players have been playing an extra month," Ward said.

Of course, that extra month produced a state title for Marian in the class 2a playoffs.

Against Wauconda, Jim Hartlieb had 15 points to lead Marian.

Ward said the Hurricanes will throw "a lot of different looks at you."

Grayslake, meanhwile, heads into its clash with Johnsburg after a 48-33 win over Crystal Lake Central. The night before, the Rams played Marengo down to the wire before losing 43-32.

"Our defense was outstanding in the first half," coach Greg Groth said of the Crystal Lake Central game.

Grayslake, (5-8 overall) after allowing Marengo just nine first-half points, allowed CLC just eight points. The host Tigers were without their best player Bill Heppner, who was sidelined with a chest injury.

"We throughly frustrated them," Groth said.

Junior Pat LaPorri scored 14 points to lead the ms while Butch Lanoir had 12.

Groth said his team was in games late but lost to Grant and Marengo, "because we forgot how to win."

After taking a 26-8 halftime lead, Grayslake held back Central rallies in the second half.

Groth complimented the play of Ray Magiera as well.

"Ray has just been outstanding the last four games. He is the key to our defense," the coach said.

Bulldogs Zap Round Lake

Grant's girls basketball game turned in its best offensive showing to date when it clubbed Round Lake last week.

The Bulldogs won the Northwest Suburban Conference game 61-38, but then lost to Marengo two nights later. The 61 points against Round Lake was the best showing yet for Grant. After the Marengo game, Grant was 7-2 in the NWSC, 8-10 overall.

Grant used a tenacious pressing defense against the Panthers early. The visitors forced eight Round Lake turnovers in the first quarter in taking a 21-13 lead. The lead grew to 40-20 at halftime and 55-33 after three quarters.

Terry Wilson led Grant with 22 points while Karrie Van Sickle added 10. Round Lake was led by Denise Kraly's 12 points.

CLC Men, Women Aim For More Skyway Victories

"We're turning the clock back 30 years," said College of Lake County coach Bruce Smith at halftime of last week's conference clash with Truman.

CLC trailed at halftime, in a first half with unusually low scoring, 19-16.

The Lancers shot a dismal 4-for-28 in the first half, but rebounded in the second half to blow away the visiting Falcons 60-42. Lancer Mark Kohl accounted for all four of the CLC first-half field goals, en route to a game-high 21 point outing. Kohl was a major factor defensively, grabbing 10 rebounds and blocking two shots in the CLC win.

Lake County grabbed the lead it would not relinquish when David Tucker and Todd Gordon sparked the team with three-pointers midway in the second half. CLC won the half 44-23. Tucker and Gordon finished with 14 and seven points, respectively. Don Gunther and Dave Sitz crashed the boards for CLC, with 11 and 12 boards respectively.

In the preliminary game, the CLC women did not fare as well. Depite dropping the contest 74-44, coach Chuck Schramm said, "we really played hard tonight. We scrapped and really hustled. I feel if we keep working hard, we're just going to get better and better as each game goes along."

Leading the way in the losing cause was Karen Hermann with 16 points. Liz Steiding, a Mundelein product, popped in 13, while Ria Deiden finished with six.

Both CLC teams then came home with a win at McHenry.

The men had little trouble in their contest, winning handily 88-63. Tucker led the Lancers with another fine performance, scoring 26 points and dishing out nine assists, and collecting seven steals. Terry Wright popped in 18 and Todd Gordon had 13 for the winners.

Despite being out rebounded by McHenry, 44-31, the Lancers were never in serious jeopardy of losing their lead.

With the two wins, Lake County moved to 10-8 overall, 2-2 in Skyway Conference play.

CLC travels to Morton Jan. 15 with a 5 p.m. starting time for the women and a 7 p.m. tip-off for the men.

In the opening game against McHenry, the Lady Lancers got back on the winning track, winning a thriller, 61-60.

JoAnn Hangebrauck sank two free throws with :10 remaininh to give the Lancers ther slim victory. In a see-saw game throughout, Steiding popped in 17 points to pace Lake County. Wendy Christina contributed 12 and Hermann 10.

Carmel Faces 'Critical' ESCC Game At Joliet Cath.

Carmel's basketball team faces what coach Frank Belmont calls a "critical" East Suburban Catholic Conference game when the Corsairs travel to Joliet Jan. 23.

"This is a critical game for us. We are 5-2 through the first round in conference play and after the Joliet Catholic game, we have three straight games at home. If we can put a good streak together, we should be in good shape going into the middle of February," Belmont said.

Carmel, 9-7 overall, will be up against an improving Joliet Catholic team, Belmont said.

"They're actually playing pretty good basketball. They're a much improved team than the one we beat in December," Belmont said.

Belmont said if Carmel is to win the league tilt, then the visitors must get off to a good start.

"They play in an old gym with a balcony over the court. It's important to get off to a good start," Belmont said.

Belmont said Carmel must stop Joliet Catholic's Mike Meyers, a sophomore guard, and John Voss.

The Corsairs are coming off a split in which they beat ESCC rival Holy Cross but lost to Hersey last week.

Carmel dumped Holy Cross 76-67 behind a strong offensive performance at home. Four players tallied in double figures, led by John Welling and Rob Graham with 20 each. Scott Stahoviak contributed 16 points and Dave Chittaro had 10 points.

"We had a good offensive night offensively but we got laxidasical on defense. At times we did not display intensity necessary to put them away," Belmont said.

Carmel led by as many as 13 points in the first half, were ahead 16-11 after one, but Holy Cross won the second quarter and tied Carmel in the third. The Corsairs then won the deciding fourth period 23-16. Carmel did not put this one away until a run gave the hosts a 65-56 lead with about three minutes left.

Against Hersey, Carmel lost its offensive punch in the non-conference battle.

The first half was tied at 23-23, but Carmel was outscored 11-6 in the third quarter and Hersey gained the advantage. Carmel rallied for a 14-11 edge in the fourth quarter, but it was not enough.

Stahoviak led Carmel with 13 points, Welling had 12 and Graham 11.

On the bright side, Belmont did say he was pleased with the way Carmel defended Hersey's Bill Markham. Markham scored 21 points, but only one basket on a second shot.

Stocks, Oil Rise As Dollar Declines

Stocks rose this week, as investors bet that interest rates and the value of the dollar would go even lower than they are now. Oil prices also suddenly came to life this week, with prices for some grades jumping by several dollars a barrel.

In Wednesday's trading, the dollar slid by 2.1 percent against the West German mark and 1.8 percenta against the Japanese yen by Thursday, amid a stock-market rally that topped last week's record close above 2000. Stock investors bought heavily, apparently foreseeing further declines in the dollar, which make our goods more affordable abroad and thus boost foreign sales.

Many large investors also were predicting that the U.S. and other industrial nations will push interest rates down in order to stimulate their economies. Encouraged by low inflation rates, many governments have moved worries about price rises to the background, and are more concerned with pushing economic growth.

Lower interest rates would mean larger corporate profits, as corporate debt expenses would fall. Increased sales are also possible, as buyers (both consumer and corporate) would have more money to spend, because they would have to pay less for credit.

The so-called "January effect" may also be helping to drive the stock market. During seven out of the last eight years, the market has risen during January, as investors hunt for bargains from year-end selloffs and set their positions for the new tax year.

Oil prices, depending upon the seller and grade, ranged from $17 to $19.70 per barrel, up from $15 to $18.75 last week.

Many analysts blame the price rise on increased demand due to a severe cold snap in Europe and the Soviet Union, and on what they see as the resoluteness of OPEC nations to voluntarily reduce their production.

Others, however, believe that there is more fear than is justified in the market over these developments, and that oil companies have taken advantage of the situation to raise prices. In fact, OPEC's resolve seems to be weakening. Reports are already coming in that the United Arab Emirates (a small but significant oil producer) is pumping approximately 30 percent more oil than it agreed to.

DECEMBER ECONOMIC INDICATORS:

Economic reports for December indicate that it was indeed a good holiday season for many Americans.

—Retail sales in December 1986 were up 4.4 percent from November, and up eight percent from December 1985.

—Civilian unemployment in December fell to 6.7 percent, from 6.9 percent in November, as strong holiday buying helped create seasonal jobs.

—Completion of housing units in November increased 0.9 percent from October. The Commerce Dept. reported that the first 11 months of 1986 saw 1.58 million units completed, as compared to 1.54 million for the same period in 1985, a 2.5 percent increase.

—The Producer Price Index (PPI) for December remained unchanged from November. The PPI declined by 2.5 percent during 1986, the first decline in 23 years.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

Investments: Treasury instruments continue to fall after the seasonal year-end surge.

The weekly Meyers Report national survey of interest and loan rates showed that yields on certificates of deposit declined at a number of the nation's banks and savings institutions.

Five-year CD yields fell at 17 percent of the institutions surveyed, while only three percent posted increases. Fourteen percent of the institutions lowered yields on 30-month CDs, and five percent raised them. Six-month CD yields showed no change in the national average from last week.

LOANS:

Interest rates on consumer loans declined this week as well. The average 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage was 9.44 percent, down from 9.46 percent last week. Of the lenders surveyed, 21 percent lowered their rates, and eight percent posted increases.

The average rate on 15-year, fixed mortgages was 9.13 percent, down from 9.15 percent last week. The average 30-year-term, one-year adjustable mortgage rate was 7.85 percent, up slightly from last week, when it was 7.84.

Auto-loan rates returned to their downward trend, as the average 48-month new-car loan dropped to 10.77 percent from 10.82 percent last week. Rates were lower at three percent of the lenders surveyed, higher at one percent. The average interest on a 36-month auto loan was 10.63 percent.

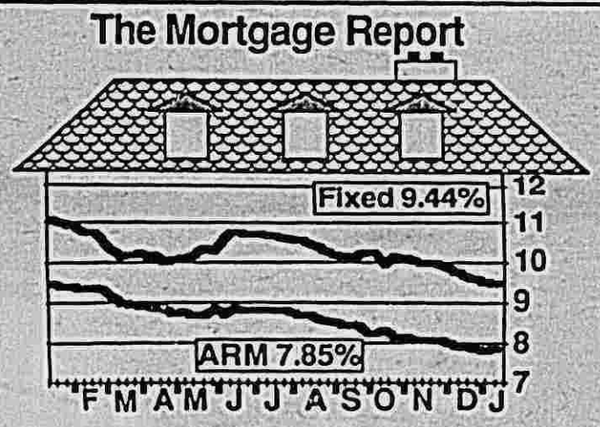

Home-improvement loans rose to an average 12.79 percent this week from 12.76 percent last week.

Barkhausen Continues Effort To Re-Let Bids

State Sen. David N. Barkhausen (R-Lake Bluff) is continuing his quest to have the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (IDOT) reopen the bidding of a $9 million highway signal maintenance contract so that a Libertyville firm, Aldridge Electric, can have another opportunity to bid on it.

Barkhausen, who was contacted by the business, based his request to IDOT on the fact that the lower bidder, Roadway Electric, is a division of Meade Electric, which was recently convicted of price-fixing on another contract.

IDOT claimed that a bid-rigging conviction can be the basis for a suspension from future bidding but not for a revocation of an existing contract.

But Barkhausen and Aldridge maintain that a separate issue is the misleading information that Roadway submitted as part of its pre-qualification to bid on the project.

"Roadway was established as a separate bidding company about the time that Meade ws implicated in bid-rigging," Barkhausen pointed out. "While there has been an attempt to show that Roadway is an entity distinct from Meade, it actually appears to be a dummy corporation whose officers and assets are the same as Meade's

"According to research done by Aldridge Electric attorneys, some of the property listed as being owned by Roadway in the pre-qualification form is actually owned by Meade," Barkhausen continued. "It also appears that the list of the work done by Roadway is either inaccurate or incomplete."

Barkhausen noted that IDOT regulations say that false or misleading information furnished in a pre-qualification application can serve as the basis for the rejection of a bid.

"Initially, I had thought that the bid-rigging conviction was the sole potential grounds for re-opening the bidding on this important contract," Barkhausen said. "But the obvious inadequacies in Roadway's pre-qualification documents provide an even better reason for IDOT to take this step that I am requesting."

Search Is On For State's Best Seafood Chef

The search is on to find Illinois' best professional seafood chef to represent the state at the first national American Seafood Challenge being held March 25-28 in Charleston, S.C.

The top five vote-getters will be invited to participate as finalists at a cook-off to be held Monday, Feb. 23.

When Pads Are Retired Jocks Race For Office

by JOHN STEINKE

It isn't hard to tick off a long list of prominent athletes who have been active in politics. Former President Jerry Ford had a distinguished sports career. He played varsity football at Michigan and coached boxing and football at Yale. Democratic President Lyndon B. Johnson once observed: "Jerry Ford must have played football without a helmet." LBJ also claimed "Ford couldn't walk and chew gum at the same time."

Steinke On Politics

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell started his major league career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1952 and pitched for the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Giants before retiring after the 1962 season. As a Republican, Mizell served three terms from North Carolina's 5th Dist. He was defeated in the anti-Watergate landslide of 1974.

Former Olympic decathlon champion Bob Mathias was elected to four terms in Congress as a California Republican. In 1974, he also lost for re-election in the Watergate year.

Jack Kemp was a former quarterback for the San Diego Chargers and Buffalo Bills. In 1970, he became Republican Congressman from Buffalo, N.Y. Now in his ninth term, Kemp is the third-ranking Republican in the House of Representatiaves. He was the author of the Kemp-Roth tax cut bill which became the basis for Reaganomics. Kemp will probably be a candidate for GOP presidential nomination when the Gipper retires in 1988.

Bobby Richardson was an outstanding second baseman with the New York Yankees from 1955 through 1966. He played in seven World Series. In 1976, Richardson ran as a Republican from South Carolina's Fifth Dist. against Democratic incumbent Kenneth L. Holland. Richardson struck out in his bid for Congress.

Jim Bunning was the winner of 224 major-league baseball games. He once pitched a perfect game for the Philadelphia Phillies. Bunning wanted to manage his old ball club. When he got passed over, Bunning went back to his native Kentucky. He served in the state legislature and was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1985. Last year, Bunning was elected GOP Congressman from Kentucky's Fourth Dist.

Another baseball great, Ernie Banks, former shortstop-first baseman for the lowly Chicago Cubs, ran for Chicago alderman as a Republican in a strong Democratic ward in April, 1963. But this Cub slugger couldn't buy a base hit with the Democratic electorate and suffered a humiliating defeat. Banks' defeat prompted former L.A. first baseman Steve Garvey, a man with ravenous political aspirations, to sign with San Diego instead of Chicago in 1983. One year later, Garvey's two-run homer off Lee Smith put the Padres rather than the Cubs in the World Series.

Like most of the other professional jocks who became politicians, Garvey is a Republican. California has elected an elederly song-and-dance man, the son of a former heavyweight champion (John V. Tunney), and a retired linguistics professor (S.I. "Sam" Hayakawa) to the U.S. Senate. This phenomenon explains why Steve Garvey isn't playing for the Cubs this season. The West Coast first baseman is thinking of a political career in California when his playing days are over. When Cub GM Dallas ("I Wish I Were In Philly") Green failed to secure Garvey's services four years ago, he signed former Dodger third baseman Ron Cey to a lucrative five-year contract. As a Cubbie fan, I wish that Cey was serving his time in the Supreme Soviet rather than at Wrigley Field.

(Third of a series.)

Presidential Award Is Given To Scout Troop 92

Scouts from Antioch's Boy Scouts of America Troop 92 received the President's Environmental Youth Award for assisting Chain O'Lakes State Park in the preservation of wood ducks. The award program is administered through the regional office of the US Environmental Protection Agency and is intended for youth groups which promote environmental awareness. The award consisted of a certificate signed by President Reagan with the scout's name lettered in calligraphy by Phyllis Good. Joe Gutowski, Governor of Moose Lodge 525 which sponsors Troop 92, presented the certificates to Eric Anderson, Mark and Matt Aschbacher, James Benedict, James Bruski, Brian Clark, Kris Clark, Dale Gade, Steve Goetzelman, Phil Hettich, Bob and Brian Baschke, Gene Polec, Dan Ravens, Dave Stachel, John Thelen, Daniel and David Weston, and Frank Zeien.

The wood duck project began in January, 1981 when park Ranger Ray Eisbrener asked Troop 92 to construct and maintain 20 wood duck nests in Chain O'Lakes Park. Wood duck preservation has been a strong concern of Eisbrener's because the dead trees which form the natural nesting sites of wood ducks have been gradually destroyed in the lakes region and replaced by urban sprawl. During the past 5 years a total of 40 wood duck nests were constructed at the Antioch Scout House from cypress wood and attached twelve feet above ground to trees bordering lakes and ponds in the park. Each March, Eisbrener and Troop 92 spend a weekend recording occupancy data for each nest, replacing the sawdust nesting materials, and relocating unused nests. Scouts eagerly take turns climbing the ladder and lifting the lid of the nest never knowing whether they will encounter an unused nest, eggshells, unhatched eggs or unwanted tenants such as racoons or squirrels. Ranger Eisbrener is pleased with the 34% average occupancy rate but continually seeks ways to increase it. Although wood ducks lay about 12 eggs each Spring only 2 ducklings survive the year, resulting in the highest mortality rate of any waterfowl species.

This unique six year joint project has been recognized locally and nationally. In 1985, Troop 92 received the Tom C. Clark Award of the National Park Foundation and the William T. Hornaday Award from the national office of Boy Scouts of America. Troop 92 is the only troop in the Northeast Illinois Council to have received these awards. Boy's Life magazine, the national publication of Boy Scouts of America, highlighted the project in its Scouting Around column in February, 1986. Outdoor Highlights, a publication of the Illinois Department of Conservation, provided an ecological perspective of the project with an article entitled "BSA and Boxes" in the May 5, 1986 issue. In response to a troop request for a mounted wood duck, the Chicago Academy of Sciences donated a young drake to Troop 92 because of their worthwhile efforts in a wood duck display which he constructed at Chain O'Lake Park headquarters, Ranger Eisbrener has written "Thanks to Troop 92 of Antioch, the Chain O' Lakes wood duck population is healthy and growing." An equally strong Thanks must be extended to Ranger Eisbrener for his leadership. The scouts and leaders were pleased to add the President's Environmental Youth Award to the troop's list of honors. Yet they realize that the primary significanceance of the award is that the project epitomizes the spirit of scouting: A community service that develops a special knowledge of the environment and it is fun.

Great America Sets Talent Auditions

The spotlight is on talent as Six Flags Show Productions begins its annual search Feb. 6 for singers and dancers who will perform on stage in Great America's exciting line-up of 1987 show productions.

The all new production already highlighted for the 1987 season is "Stars and Stripes Revue," a 30-minute musical featuring America's favorite music from stage and screen as well as some favorite medleys- from the '50s and '60s.

Auditions will be held in the park's Grand Music Hall Theater, providing entertainers the chance to perform on the same stage where "Stars and Stripes Revue" will be performed more than 700 times during the season.

Dates and times for "Stars and Stripes Revue" auditions are: Friday and Saturday, Feb. 6 and 7 at Six Flags Great America, Gurnee, Grand Music Hall Theater.

Use Rt. 21 employee entrance. Audition times for both days are 10 a.m., dancers call and 2 p.m., singers call.

Please note that registration begins one hour prior to audition times and performers are only permitted to audition either as a singer or a dancer.

To audition, performers must be 16 years of age or older, and all auditions are limited to two minutes.

For singers, a piano and accompanist will be available at the auditions. (The park will not provide a record player or cassette tape player.) Singers are responsible for bringing music in their key and may be asked to dance.

Dancers should wear proper dance attire, and will be taught combination exercises by a Six Flags choreographer. Dancers also should be prepared to to sing.

Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 5 p.m., Great America and Gene Patrick Productions will conduct auditions for dancers in the park's Theatre Royale production "Bugs Bunny's Goin' Hollywood," a colorful comedy featuring the Oscar-winning rabbit and his Looney Tunes Pals.

Auditionees for "Bugs Bunny's Goin' Hollywood" must be 16 or older, and should come prepared to dance in several dance combination exercises. A prepared routine is not necessary.

Great America will also host instrumental auditions, by appointment only, for the park's popular 14-member marching band.

To audition, musicians specializing in percussion, tuba, trombone, trumpet, and/or alto, tenor and bari saxophone should bring their own sheet music and also be prepared to site read.

Male and female barbershop quartets and Top '40s bands will also be auditioned with the musicians. Interested musicians and groups should call the park's Show Operations Dept. at (312) 249-1776, ext. 4650 for an appointment beginning Feb. 2.

Performers selected for the 1987 season will have the opportunity to entertain the over 2.5 million guests expected to visit the park this year. In addition, they will gain valuable experience working under the professional supervision and expertise of the park's experienced choreographers and producers.

Individuals that enjoy behind-the-scense efforts of show production, such as technicians and wardrobe attendants, are also needed to fill theatrical support positions at Great America.

Interested candidates should call (312) 249-1776, ext. 4650, or write Show Operations Dept., P.O. Box 1776, Gurnee, Ill., 60031, no later than Feb. 15.

Six Flags Great America opens for its 12th season of family fun with an exciting new ride attraction and an all new show entertainment package on Saturday, May 2.

Guy Carawan, who for 25 years has sung and played his way across the country, makes a return appearance at the David Adler Cultural Center on Friday, Feb. 6, in two shows, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

In addition to these hundred seasons of performing, Carawan and his wife Candie, have devoted a great deal of their time to collecting and publishing the songs of Appalachis and the South Carolina sea islands and the songs of the civil rights movement.

Carawan's recent recordings include a children's cassette, an album of contemporary songs recorded with Candie, and a hammered dulcimer album recorded with their son, Evan.

Opening both shows will be Jenny Armstrong, a one-woman folk band who accompanies herself on guitar, banjo, fiddle and Highland bagpipes.

'Most Valuable' To Genesee

The California Theatre Center presents "Most Valuable Player", their internationally-acclaimed production about the life of Jackie Robinson. Robinson was the first black ballplayer to break the color barrier in major league baseball in the United States.

California Theatre Center, a versitle ensemble theatre company, celebrates the life of this extraordinary man who won the fight against prejudice with the strength of his character and his ability to play.

Utilizing a multi-media design, the play presents Robinson's earliest, most bitter confromtations with prejudice to his greatest moment of triumph-- being awarded the Most Valuable Player in 1949.

The Most Valuable Player was developed through research and improvisation by the origional cast and production team-- Chuck Abernathy, Joe Bostick, Gayle Cornelison, Duncan W. Graham, Helen Petit, Kevin Reese, Mary Hall Surface, J. Stephen White, and Dorien Wilson-- in May 1984.

The style is fast-paced and physical, juxtaposing montages of Robinson's past with powerful scenes featuring the major sports figures who helped to make Robinson great--PeeWee Reese, Leo Durocher, and the influential Branch Rickey the president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

MVPs 1986-87 international tour will feature Dorien Wilson, who created the role, as Jackie Robinson.

"Most Valuable Player," the California Theatre Center's most successful and popular production, has been featured at the Edmonton International Children's Festival in May 1984, in a week's residency at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. in October 1984, at the Toronto International Childrens Festival in May 1985, on a 52-day tour of Europe sponsored by the U.S. government, and as the only American company at the first International Festival of Theatre for Young People in Lima, Peru in October 1985.

Moreover, MVP has been presented to thousands of young people and their families in California, Utah, Arizona, Kentucky, Illinois, and Virginia. The 1986-87 tour includes Michigan, Alabama, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, as well as a four-week tour of British Columbia and Nova Scotia, partially funded by the Canada Council, as part of a three-way exchange among Theatre Center, the Mermaid Theatre of Nova Scotia and the Green Thumb Theatre of Vancouver.

The California Theatre Center is a fully--professional company of adult theatre artists located in Sunnyvale, Cal. Silicon Valley. Theatre Center performs daily from October to June in their resident theatre for their Young Audiences Series and presents a summer season of plays for adults.

"Most Valuable Player," will be presented Feb. 16, at 9:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee, Waukegan. Prices are $5 adults, $3 students, senior citizens and military, $2.50 groups with advance registration.

Call theatre box office at (312)336-0494 for more information.

Symphony Opens Season

The Lake Forest Symphony opens its mid-winter season, Feb. 6, at 8:30 p.m., with the renowned Greek pianist Janis Vakarelis making one of his rare U.S. appearances playing the Grieg piano concerto in A minor.

Vakarelis has performed throughout Eurpoe and the Far East, and recently made his London debut with Vladimir Ashkenazy.

Victor Yampolsky, former assistant conductor of the Moscow Philharmonic and the Boston Symphony Orchestra, now professor of music and conductor of Northwestern University Orchestras, will conduct Beethoven's Symphony No. 5, and selection by Barber and Liadov.

The performance will be presented again Sunday, Feb. 8 at 7:30 p.m., with a pre-concert lecture by Vakarelis at 6:30 p.m. in The Hilton Theatre. Both performances will take place at the Drake Theatre, Barat College, Lake Forest.

Tickets are $12 to $17 and are available through Ticketron, or by calling the symphony office at (312) 295-2135. Special student, senior and group discounts given. Master and Visa cards are accepted.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE
BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: A shift in purpose takes effect.
Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) Be careful where you go to make your case. Some apparently friendly types may have friends other than you.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Although truth is on your side, be careful not to rely only on those who insist they've nothing to hide. Advice: Find that "nothing" for yourself.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A real friend may seem less optimistic than you prefer. But such friends stick with you regardless of what happens.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) A deceiving appearance is more than skin deep. What you see on the surface is more complex below. Avoid chances of getting into a confusing maze.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) A curious case of "instant" amnesia makes a once trusted confidante less trustworthy. A changed situation calls for more changes in your approach.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A temporary disruption of your best made plans soon ends. Meanwhile, check to see if you can rejuggle some commitments. Set new priorities.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct 22) A continuing roll of good luck brings you new distinction among your peers. Your efforts are being recognized and assessed.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Appearances continue to be misleading. Dig deep for causes of misunderstandings that stand in the way of final agreement on important matters.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Some post-holiday indebtedness needs more than money to repay. Don't let your busy schedule keep you from keeping your promises.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Family matters continue to take center stage, and you continue to be the star player. Be patient with those who need advice.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Take a stand (it's something your friends are hoping you'll do) and demand that others keep their promises to you. Your success will bring hope.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) This is a period of trade-offs. But don't barter everything away. The best bargain is a bad bargain if you give up what you really hold dear.

Name Johnson As Top Illinois Rugby Player

For a guy who was cut from Antioch High School's football team in 1981, Daniel Johnson, of Antioch, has certainly come a long way.

Johnson joined the army as an infantryman upon graduation from high school and while in Berlin, West Germany discovered that he could play rugby. And play he did.

He traveled with the army team throughout Europe, playing in Berlin, Australia, Switzerland, Australia and the team also traveled to Mexico.

Rugby, according to Johnson, is a gentlemen's sport. It originated in 1834 at Rugby Univ. in Englans. The game combines the continuous movement of soccer, the violence of hockey and plays similar to football.

"Rugby has taken a long time to catch on in the U.S.," Johnson said, "the competition has always been football and soccer. It is catching on in the prep schools."

"The game," Johnson explained, "is played on a field 110 yd. long and 75 yd. wide. It takes an incredible amount of endurance. There are two 40 min. halves, no time-outs and no substitutions allowed during the game."

Since returning to the states, Johnson has remained an active rugby player.

Johnson has been named as one of the top five rugby players in the state of Illinois.

He was selected on the basis of his knowlege, toughness, speed and leadership ability.

Within the past year, Johnson has played on three teams, most notably, the Illinois All Star Rugby Squad which represnted the state of Illinois against a team from Japan. He also traveled to Kentucky to represent Illinois in the Midwest All Star game.

"He is an outstanding individual and a great athlete," said Illinois All Stars Head Coach, Victor Bobb. "We as coaches are proud to have Johnson represent Illinois."

Bobb pointed out that Johnson supported the team off the field as well. He provided first aid for other players throughout the season, a knowlege that Johnson attributed the training received as a member of the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Johnson is the son of Frank and Louise Johnson of Antioch.

Release Fisher On Bond in Stabbing, Beating

by GLORIA DAVIS

Daniel Fisher, 26, Twin Lakes, who had been arrested for aggravated battery in connection with the beating and stabbing of Robert Baker, 30, Lake Villa on Wilmot Rd. near Rte. 173 in Spring Grove on Jan. 8, has been released on a $5,000 cash bond.

Fisher appeared before Kenosha County Court Commissioner George Easton on Friday who reset the original $100,000 cash bond to $5,000. He is due to reappear before Easton for further proceedings on Feb. 16.

The stabbing and beating of Baker and Randy Knackstedt, 29, Antioch, was discovered by police at 4:24 a.m. The Fox Lake Police Dept. claim they stopped Fisher at 3:51 a.m. for a traffic fraction.

The McHenry County Sheriff's Dept. came to Twin Lakes on Friday with a warrant for aggravated battery against Daniel Fisher, 26.

The Twin Lakes Police Dept. went with McHenry County to the address they had listed for Fisher on Berry Rd. Fisher was not there. A Twin Lakes dispatcher remembered she had seen Fisher in Silver Lake.

The Silver Lake Police Dept. assisted McHenry County in arresting Fisher at an address in Silver Lake.

He was then taken to the Kenosha County jail to be held for extradition to Illinois to face charges.

The victims told police they had left a Fox Lake bar and a car had run them off the road and several persons beat and stabbed them.

Baker remains in serious condition at Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry.

Properties Rezoned

Village engineers were instructed to begin drawing up plans for the Hillside Ave. improvements at the Jan. 12 village board meeting.

The improvements, to be paid for out of the village's share of the Motor Fuel Tax, are estimated at $150,000. Improvements will include curb and sidewalk repairs and street repaving. The repairs are scheduled to begin in the spring.

The board, in possible anticipation of additional multi-family housing units, passed control ordinance changes and approved a number of rezonings.

Zoning changes were approved for four properties on Main St., just south of North Ave. The zoning was changed from residential to mulit-family.

The changes in zoning were apparently sought in anticipation of building mulit-family structures on the lots.

According to Clarence Larson, one of the four property owners, "there are various things that are going to have to happen first. Nothing is going to happen for awhile."

The next village board meeting is scheduled for Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the village hall.
